

World War 2, when plastic had not been invented.

They are still made using the same techniques that were originally used by makers in the each toy is hand cut, engraved and punched from sheets of metal which are then assembled into individual pieces assembled into the finished product. collectors items that

